Deer Hunting Death Toll 11

Michigan's toll of human deaths season rose to 11 today-ninth day of the season

There have been 12 other hunter deaths from heart attacks and seven of miscellaneous causes, including traffic, asphyxiation and drowning. At least 36 hunters have been shot and wounded accidentally.

Shot In Temple

The latest gunshot fatality was James O'Keefe, 24, of Route 1, Grand Haven, State Police said of mining and a process known as vesterday while hunting Lake township, Lake county.

After a Thanksgiving Day lull, additional hunters were expected to head for the woods this weekend. So far the kill has been reported light.

Richard Hopsetter, 34, of Parma (Cleveland), O., was shot to death yesterday in Gogebic county. State police said he was shot in the left temple when Dewey Isaacson, 14, of Ironwood, Mich., fired at a deer that ran between them.

State police at the Cheboygan post reported the sad experience of a hunter who lost a deer that he "bagged" on the highway. Police marked it down as a stolen deer when they were unable to find a buck which ran into the car of Albert Gasser of Berkley,

"THE LAST SUPPER" RE-CREATED - New York artist Lumen Winter puts the fimshing touches on an immense painting to which he devoted many years' research—an exact-scale recreation of Leonardo DaVinci's masterpiece, "The Last Supper." Winter's work, only one in . the world painted to the full scale of the orig-

With Deer Hunters

Northern Michigan's deer hunting country was comparatively quiet today with few hunters out following the Thanksgiving holiday. An estimated 60 per cent of the downstate hunters have already returned to their homes.

As the "outsiders" cleared the woods, the local hunters (many of whom are still unsuccessful) were getting in their licks. The kill in Michigan generally is light compared to last year.

Conservation officials say the cause is a loss in deer population caused by last winter's widespread starvation while the deer were in yards. Another winter of heavy snowfall appears to be in prospect.

More snow yesterday and last night drove more hunters from backwoods camps in fear of having their cars "snowed-in" for the Many hunters spent all day Wednesday in the woods in an effort to fill their licenses before Thanksgiving Day.

Among the successful ones is Anton "Tony" Jessen, Escanaba, who bagged a 10-pointer Wednesday while hunting on the Stonington penensula. Officer in charge of Minneapolis Shoal lighthouse, Jessen returned to his post on the light in the middle of Green bay today.

Success also attended the Wednesday hunting trip of John Chriske. Escanaba, conservation department district supervisor.

Chriskie returned to his old stamping ground at Beaton spur near Watersmeet and bagged an eight-pointer weighing 150 pounds. His son, Jack, and a companion, "Buzzy" Ville-mur of Escanaba, failed to get any shooting.

Joe Moon of Lansing, who hunts at Cornell each year and who is at the South home this season, says he has often been scolded by a Critics award play depicting the member of the gentler sex but of any country in the world. Sunday for the first time in his life he received a tongue lashing ing play in the New York Civic from a four-legged lady.

Moon had brought down an 11-point buck weighing about 190 pounds and sat down to light a cigaret. As he did a large doe came out into the clearing, apparently totally unafraid, shook her head from side to side and snorted at him before going on about her business.

Few Accidents Over Holiday

Highways Slippery In Most Of Peninsula

There were few traffic accidents yesterday in the Escanaba area to mar the Thanksgiving holiday, although fresh snow packed on road surfaces to make most state and county highways generally slippery.

The state highway department today reported the light snowfall resulted in very slippery conditions on all roads in eastern Upper Peninsula and in Menominee county. Lower Michigan roads are icy from the Ludington-Bay City line north.

In Delta county snow now on the ground ranges from less than an inch in Escanaba to 18 inches in North Delta.

The sheriffs office reported one accident yesterday in which Mrs. Louis Williams of Escanaba Rt. 1 sustained minor injuries.

The accident occurred at 6:15 p. m. on Old State Road when the Williams car, parked partly on the road was sideswiped by a car driven by John Kew, 65, of Escanaba Rt. 1. Williams had halted to allow Kew to pass. Kew was ticketed for driving without an operator's license. Damage to the two cars was estimated at $150.

Three Antlered Does Fool Buck Hunters

LANSING-(AP)-Killing of two does bearing antlers has been reported this year.

One doe, killed in Antrim county had a single four-point horn. The other, carrying six - inch spikes still in velvet, was brought down on Beaver Island. A third antlered doe was reported shot in Wells the Lake Gogebic area this season by a woman hunter from Flint.

The occurrence, though rare, is not unheard of. Normally one such case every two years is reing down the freaks are permitted to keep them.

REDS HAVE GOOD TANKS-Soviet tanks, including some of the world's best, are now being reported in sizeable numbers in Korea for the first time since the early days of the war. As compared above with UN tanks in Korea, the Red dreadnaughts are faster and have equal or superior firepower. In addition they are girded with more effective armor, are lower and have wider tracks that give better traction in rice paddies. Because Red tanks have been committed rarely in the past 13 months. Allied observers fear the recent build-up may mean the Reds plan to mount another major offensive.

Wild Buffalo Going To Expo

14 Shipped From Custer Park

HERMOSA, South Dakota Fourteen wild buffalo from the Custer State Park area here are enroute to Chicago's International Live Stock Exposition today on a fast freight of the Chicago and North Western Railway.

The animals—all young steers were loaded here yesterday on a special "horse" car, the same type car on which thoroughbred race horses travel. Les Price, superintendent of Custer State Park, who is shipping the animals to the show, said that they are easily frightened and difficult to handle despite their large size. Charles D. Cook, general live stock agent of the North Western Railway, made a special trip to Hermosa to supervise the loading of the buffalo, whose appearance at the International will mark the first time in the shows 52-year history that buffalo have been shown with live stock.

Truman predicted a campaign of mudslinging and "lies and smears" from Republicans and "special interests," the latter always a favorite target of Mr. Truman his "Fair Deal" cronies and "New Deal" prodecessors.

At no time in his speech did Mr. Truman mention any of the charges of wrongdoings in his administration. His references to "lies and smears," however, indicate that the president recognizes vulnerability of his administration as a result of the proved acts of corruption by his hirelings. The president obviously is seeking to take some of the sting from the criticisms that he knows will be forthcoming in the election year of 1952 by casting off the charges in advance as "lies and smears."

Mr. Truman got a long way off base, too, in his charge that "special interests" poured huge sums of money into the Ohio elecsupposed to have killed the Taft-Hartley he says. labor act and it was in this campaign that the national CIO and AFL together poured huge sums of money and directed their most vigorous efforts to unseat Senator

Pickford Bank Short Over Half Million

AFFAIRS at the private bank in Pickford are in worse shape than was first believed according to State Banking Commissioner Eveland.

The commissioner reports the bank may lack more than a half million dollars for covering its deposits and debts. Some very bad loans were made by the owner of the bank, who recently wrote a suicide note that he was taking "a coward's way" out of his dilemma.

The Pickford tragedy occurred after the Michigan legislature passed a law to require the 11 remaining private banks to incorporate themselves and submit to periodical examination and regulation. A ate straits.

Industrial Activity Is Expanding Here

THE proceedings of the last meeting of the Escanaba city council gave hints of the steady growth of industrial activity in Escanaba.

One of Escanaba's new industries, the mon? Harnischfeger corporation, acquired some city-owned land for use as a parking lot near the truck crane plant, which is now operating at full capacity. With its truck crane and welder plants, Harnischfeger now employs about 550 persons here.

The Northern Motor Rebuilders also indicated in a letter to the Escanaba city council that it would expand its operations here if it could obtain more manufacturing space at its Stephenson avenue plant. Northern Motor Rebuilders shares with Harnischfeger the former Steele-Wallace company building, which was rehabilitated by the City of Escanaba for industrial ernment at Washington lives"?

Close cooperation between the City of Escanaba and the Escanaba Chamber of coln's assassination. Commerce in a postwar program to bring new industries here has brought some highly worthwhile results. It is a project that should continue since there is still need for additional industrial job opportunities here.

It was not aiways this way in Gov. Williams' administration. The governor did a lot of political maneuvering after the death of P. J. Hoffmaster, state conservation director. His actions stirred a lot of resentment and criticism among conservaion clubs hrughout the state. These groups recognize that the cause of conservation can best be served on a non-political basis.

LIBRARIES ON WHEELS (Sault Ste. Marie News)

Many libraries both in metropolitan areas and in smaller communities in all parts of the nation have been working for some time with what is called the "bookmobile." It is a truck or bus which brings library service to a central point in a suburban or rural area, to enable the residents to select and borrow books without making the trip to the main library.

The service is particularly valuable to the busy housewife, who can obtain a book to read in such spare time as she has. She might not be able to do it if she had to make her way into town. Modern Education By Gordon Martin

I am frightened by the course that modern education takes, for it surely doesn't give a doubtful parent any breaks. And I find when I am asked to help my child with any test, I am not so sure of what to say and often am distressed. If it's one to measure aptitude, I'm just an awful dunce, for on true-and-false I've been a flunking failure more than once. I am also quite a flop in picking out the proper word, and in higher mathematics I am sure a helpless bird. I am not so hot in memorizing all-important dates, and I might as well resign when come the compound interest rates. All of which will leave me baffled and in that I'm not alone, for my child believes that these were things a parent should have known. "I don't understand," she says, "how they expect me to recite, when a grown-up man like you can't even get the answers right." Then I must admit she's got a point that I cannot explain, lest I then admit I'm ignorant with little for a brain. So I'm frightened by the course that modern education takes, George Vanik, 25-year-old Cleveland balfor I know it doesn't give a doubtful parent any breaks.

WASHINGTON - Exuberant George Bender, the Ohio congressman, popped the question to General Eisenhower during a two and one-half hour relaxed chat with the general in Paris.

Bender, a rootin-tootin' Taft supporter, looked Ike in the eye and said with a grin: 'General, is you or ain't you, and how?"

General Eisenhower's eyes twinkled but he made no direct reply. Instead he emphasized to Bender and three other visiting Congressmen the great importance of his job in Europe. It was vital to the safety of mankind to rearm Europe, the general said, no matter what individual sacrifices

Young Dick Bolling, the clean-cut Kansas City Democrat, suggested in half-humorous vein: "General, if you run for president, I am sure you will be much happier on the Democratic ticket."

Eisenhower did not answer that one either, but Rep. Leon Gavin, Pennsylvania, did, and in no uncertain terms.

"The Republican party is the only party of free enterprise," he said loudly and firmly. "The Democrats are all Socialists and you would not get along with them." At another point in the conversation, Congressman Bender asked Ike: "What about that Arthur Krock story in the New York Times saying you and President Truman talked politics?"

This was the only time during the visit that the general appeared upset or irritated. "There was not a word of truth to the story," he said indignantly and with great firmness. He added that he could not understand why a reputable newsman would fall for "such a phony."

Note-Flying to Key West the other day, President Truman sat down in the compartment of the presidential plane where his staff was working and point by point went over his luncheon conversation with General Eisenhower. He repeated that at no time had they discussed politics. TWO PRESIDENTS

Here is the inside story as to why President Truman coldly brushed aside French President Auriol's proposal for a new Big Mr. Truman flatly turned down Auriol's idea after receiving an urgent cable from Secretary of State Acheson in Paris, stating that President Auriol had made the Big Four proposal without the approval of French Foreign Minister Schuman or of the French cabinet.

Furthermore, President Auriol, according to Achesons cable, had tersely refused to eliminate the Big Four meeting idea from his speech even though U.S. Ambassador Jessup pleaded with him that the Russians would interpret it as a sign of weakness. Acheson therefore advised the president to rebuff the entire proposal, which was done.

DEFECTIVE TANK TURRETS Last month the army refused to accept a single medium (M-4) tank from its own Detroit arsenal.

The arsenal produced more than a hundred of the new tanks but the Army was so strict with its own arsenal that not a single one passed inspection. In each case the Army complained that the turrets on quirements for the tank demand that the within six seconds - and remain on the target automatically while the tank continues to move in any direction.

While the rejected tanks could do this complex mehanical job, it took most of them nine or ten seconds instead of the required tix.

Specialists from all over the country are now being called in to-try to perfect the tanks traversing gear to meet army demands. Meanwhile, the Detroit arsenal will continue to turn out the faulty tanks on the practical theory that modifications can be made later when the vital three - second problem is licked.

Meanwhile, the dispute over the three seconds will probably be settled by a mock tank battle at Fort Knox.

Russia Winning Cold War In Middle East, Arab Diplomats Report At UN

By LEON DENNEN NEA Staff Correspondent

PARIS—(NEA)—Soviet Russia is winning the cold war in the Middle East.

Arab diplomats attending the United Nations sessions in Paris report that because of failure to support legitimate Moslem nationalist aspirations, Western prestige in the Middle East is dwindling while Moscow is gaining in influence and strength. Even strongly pro - American

"Time is running out for the West in the Arab world," a leading Middle Eastern statesman told me. "Soon it may be too late to save the Moslems from the Kremlin's death grip," he said.

Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet Foreign Minister, did not even mention the Middle East in his opening address to the UN Assembly. Nor has there been much comment on the Middle East in the Soviet press.

But the Russians are racing against time in an effort to exploit the nationalist upsurge in the Arab world, especially the chaotic situation in Iran and Egypt.

Good Evening...

STRANGE STORIES-In hunting camps where men gather of an evening to while away the hours before hitting the hay stories are told of strange adventures in the Northern Michigan woods.

These tales have the perfection of classics. They are polished as they are retold. Missing gaps are filled in, motives established, and the stories emerge complete and satisfying.

The tales have qualities in commonmacabre and mysterious, violent and gruesome—that tie them to the elemental in human emotions.

NIGHT AND SNOW- One of these is he story of the man who ran away from

Late in arriving in the Upper Peninsula, this downstate deer hunter was to join his friends in camp a few miles from Seney. He left the DSS&A railroad train at a siding. A blizzard whipped across the plains but the hunter set out, sure he could find his way.

With darkness came the numbing realization that he was lost and not prepared to spend a night in the woods, for his hunting clothes were at camp.

Passing hours and endless miles of walking were followed by calming but colder weather. Clouds moved aside to unveil the waning moon- and all about on the plain were stumps and stubs, snow-plastered into tombstones and shrouded figures hovering. The lost man began running.

They found his body next day and his tracks told a story of fear and death. From his crazed flight he had at last turned and fought-wrestled with snowy stumps, struck at ghostly pursuers of the plain until exhausted he fell and died.

VOICE OF WARNING-No doubt the story will be revived in a certain hunting camp this year of the voice of warning, the man who heeded, and was saved.

The man is Ted Kessler of 510 South 8th street, Escanaba, and the incident happened last year. Kessler had gone to camp early and with Howard Eldred, conservation game manager, had cut cedar browse for the deer. Then Eldred returned to town and Kessler was alone.

That night, sitting by lanternlight in the camp, Kessler heard a voice. Plainly it told him: Wear your heavy hunting coat when you go out to cut browse tomorrow.

Startled, Kessler listened intently, but there was no further message. The following day he recalled the warning and, although the day was warm, wore the hunting coat.

It was well that he did, for he became lost in returning to camp from the swamp and spent two nights in the woods. The coat kept him warm and with matches in its pockets he built fires each night and came out of the woods unharmed.

MADMAN OF THE SWAMP-Our third story is of the wounded hunter who would not die, and the madman who shot him. Perhaps it began as a simple hunting accident. Authorities do not know. This they do know, that a deer hunter was shot in the back and fell to the snow-covered ground in a little hollow among the trees. The object of widespread search, his body was not found until nearly a week later. And tracks in the snow told a gruesome story. The man who had shot him, during those days his victim lived in helpless agony-the bullet had paralyzed him from the waist down-had walked to the spot each day from a nearby camp. He had stood on a rise of ground. looking down at the wounded man's struggles to pull himself along with his hands. No doubt he heard his cries of pain, his screams for help.

Then, the evidence revealed, the wounded hunter had shot himself through the head, ending his agony. And the shacker who had each day stood at the arena of death without givng assistance? Perhaps insane before, or driven mad by his experience, he died in

Earlier Duck Season For Upper Peninsula On Agenda For Dec. 6

LANSING - (AP) - Clarence Cottam, assistant chief of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, will attend the state conservation commission meeting Dec. 6 to discuss Michigan demands for an earlier duck season opening in the Upper Peninsula.

Upper Peninsula duck hunters have long been seeking federal permission to begin shooting before the Lower Peninsula. The duck migration is believed to be a month earlier above the Straits because of earlier autumn weather.

The commission entered the demand strongly this year when it was learned staggered openings had been permitted in some other states with similar climatic prob-

Photographic Mystery Creates Sensation---

This picture, which appeared in the Ashland (Ky.) Daily Independent, was represented to that newspaper as an actual photograph taken in the sky over Korea. The Independent ran the picture on a Sunday and the entire edition of 14,000 copies was quickly sold out, with people clamoring for more. Two weeks later, also on a Sunday, the paper ran the picture again and again the entire edition was snapped up. Readers sent clippings to friends and the Independent has been receiving hundreds of letters from all over the country. According to the information received by the paper, an Air Force man from Chicago took pictures of an American and a Communist plane during a combat patrol. He sent the films home to Chicago to be developed. To the amazement of everyone, including the flyer, the image of Christ, supposedly formed by clouds, showed up on one of the photos. A neighbor of the Air Force man's family in Chicago sent a print to his brother in Ashland. Someone there finally mailed it to the Independent. Actual origin of the picture is a mystery so far, because the names of the Air Force man and of the Chicago neighbor family are unknown.

The biggest ALARM of all

WHEN FIRE STRIKES, you may hear one alarm...maybe a second alarm...perhaps even a third. But the biggest alarm of all is the alarm in your heart.

"Was anybody caught inside . . . anybody I know...hurt?...burned?...overcome? How'd it start? How much loss? What's the whole

Even if you have a police pass or a good view from a roof, you still burn up with unsatisfied suspense and curiosity...

Until you see your newspaper.

You grab your paper and all the answers are there. First, in complete detail, full of local color - as it never could be anywhere else.

You knew it would all be there. Together with all the other news to be found anywhere that matters to you. Plus a hundred things you don't find anywhere else.

It doesn't take a fire. You can be just as wrought up tomorrow about a plan in the town council to widen your street. You never know what's coming ... so you read your newspaper every day.

Everybody else is just like you. Everybody reads the newspaper every day. If one thing doesn't stir them - it's another. To a thrifty housewife, the fire sale can be just as important as the fire.

That's why when you have something to sell, the newspaper is the one place to reach all the people all the time.

In advertising, why deal in fractions?...

Magazines reach only fractions of your market. For each one appeals to some people-not to others. No magazine is read by everyone in town who can possibly buy.

Radio and TV programs reach only fractions of your market. Each one appeals to only a special audience - sports fans, homemakers, kids, etc. And how many of these can listen at the time you broadcast?

The newspaper talks to everybody in town. It's created fresh every day to appeal to everybody. Just as you read the paper now, all your customers and prospects read the paper too at the times they choose, for as long as'they

Only the newspaper is first with the most news ... first with the most people ... first with the most advertisers!

Mrs. W. J. Cook Dies Wednesday

Funeral Services To Be Tomorrow

Mrs. William J. Cook, 48, passed away at 10:15 p. m. Wednesday at back club. her home, 614 Arbutus avenue. She had been in failing health for several years.

She was born Jan 29, 1903, in Traverse City and came to Manistique following her marriage on Dec. 21, 1926. She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Judson Hollenbeck, of Manistique, and before her marriage was Donna Hollenbeck.

She was a member of the Church of the Redeemer, Presbyterian: Ida Chapter No. 54, Order of Eastern Star; and had been on the nursing staff of the Shaw hospital here for about 15 years. During the war years of 1942 to 1944 she conducted home nursing classes in Manistique.

She leaves her husband and two sons, William E., who recently arrived from service in Korea, and David, at home; two sisters, Jean, of Manistique, and Mrs. Leo Schwartz, of Royal Oak; and a brother, Perry, of Manistique.

Friends may call at the Kefauver and Jackson funeral home tonight and until 1230 p. m. tomorrow at which time the body will be removed to the Presbyterian church. Funeral services will be held from the church at 3, with ial will take place in Fairview

PMA Ballots Are Mailed This Week: Voting Ends Dec. 20

Mailing of ballots for the election of PMA community committeeman was completed by Nov. 19, it is reported by Leonard T. England, of Germfask, chairman of the county PMA committee.

All eligible farmers in the county have been mailed ballots, and they will have until Dec. 20 to mark and return them, either by mail or in person, to the Manistique PMA office, East Elm street.

Nominating committees in each of the county's agricultural communities have selected no less than 10 and no more than 15 nominees whose names are listed on the ballots.

Each voter will ballot for five of the nominees for community committeemen and two for dele-

State Controls New Antibiotic

Drug May Bring In Big Royalties

LANSING- (A) -The state administrative board has set up a method for managing a new antibiotic drug discovered by the Michigan State Health laboratories.

The drug, called synnematin, hits at a range of germs not covered by other anti-biotics, of which penicillin is the most famous. The new drug attacks salmonella organisms, which cause various diarrheas, the brucella organisms which cause undulant fever, the proteus organisms which cause genite-urinary diseases, and a range of others which are covered by previously discovered anti-bio-

Dr. G. D. Cummings, director of the State Health laboratories, said the new substance had reached the stage where it could be turned over to commercial drug firms for mass production. Michigan already has applied for a patent on the

Noting that the state might obtain large sums of money from royalties on the production, Dr. Cummings said that the question of management and legal control should not be left in the hands of the laboratory technicians and asked the board to take charge." The board instructed Governor

Williams to set up a special committee of Attorney General Frank G. Millard, State Treasurer D. Hale Brake and Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, to investigate the matter and report to the board through its regular committee system.

Dr. Cummings said every recognized commercial drug producer in the country had asked for information on the new discovery.
